News In Brief

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC

A group of interested and concerned citizens have launched a "Stadium '74" campaign to build a track and football stadium at Seaside High School."

"We feel that not only do the students deserve their own facility but also such a project would serve the various needs of the whole community," Mrs. Pat Sloan, Stadium Chairman said.

At the present time the only comparable site available to the Monterey High School and Seaside High School communities is at Monterey Peninsula College. The heavy usuage it receives is not only inconvenient and difficult to schedule, it is unsafe.

It is urged that you Help Satdium "74" become a reality. Donations, tax deductible, may be sent to:

Ridership on the Peninsula's transit system rose again in June. Hugh Bayless, Chairman of the Joint Powers Agency, reported that a record 35,051 passengers rode during last month. Patronage on the JPA system has been increasing steadily since February.

Bayless, whc also serves as City Administrator of Carmel, stated that the June increase was unexpected. "We had anticipated a decline, dut to the loss of most student riders during the Summer," Bayless explained.

Again this year, for the 35th time, an "Early Bird" breakfast will open the Monterey County Fair, with hot cakes and sausages being served up at the Fairgrounds in Monterey from 7 to 9:30 a.m. on Tuesday, July 23.

Monterey Kiwanis Club, which originated the breakfast 34 years ago, is putting it on this year, after a number of years of Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce sponsorship. Both groups have relied heavily on the cooperation of Fort Ord, and again this year field kitchens and 45 men from the Army's cook school will make serving the hundreds of breakfasters an efficient undertaking.

Ed Johnson is chairman for the breakfast. Monterey realtor George Dovolis will be master of ceremonies, introducing dignitaries expected to be among the opening day crowd.

Tickets ($1.95 for adults, children under 14 $1.25) may be purchased in advance at all Chamber of Commerce offices, Monterey Savings and Loan or from a Kiwanis member.

The finalists appear in turn during the Horse Show week, with the top winners receiving their trophy at the Saturday night show.

Handicapped Activities Unlimited Is One Agency Helped By United Fund

"Your Fair Share" to the Monterey Peninsula United Fund means activities unlimited to the handicapped, for one of the 14 charitable oragnizations which financially benefits from the Fund's annual drive is Handicapped Activities Unlimited of Pacific Grove.

This community-service agency incorporates work activity and recreation programs for physically, mentally, and emotionally handicapped people past the age of 18 years.

The basic goal of Handicapped Activities Unlimited is to help handicapped individuals realize a more fulfilling existence, to teach them discipline through work and give them the opportunity to contribute to the economic and social base of our community. They also derive the benefit of knowing and working with other people, of learning to accept the responsibility of meeting business deadlines, and they gain the dignity that is a result of doing a job well.

Presently, there are 22 participants in the program who travel daily from throughout the peninsula to meet at the agency workshop on Grand Avenue. They work on various contract jobs, such as addressing, collating, stuffing and mailing envelopes. Included among their clients are many local companies: Del Rey Supply, Saks Fifth Avenue and Del Monte Properties use their services consistently. Beautiful bean and corn necklaces are also strung during the day, to be sold at Far Out Handicrafts on Cannery Row. The agency's newest and most successful venture is collecting old TV sets from which they remove copper and aluminum for resale. HAU is the only local agency currently "recycling" abandoned or worn-out TV's and also is one of the few organizations in our area that is collecting aluminum cans for recycle.

The agency workshop is a cheery, sunlit, one-room building. "HAU people have a good spirit," exclaims Program Director Carolyn Bishop "they are much happier than they have been in the past, for now they have things to do and they are earning money. Most importantly, they know they are accepted here." Carolyn has been with HAU for 3 years, supervising and working right along with the workshop members and her assistant, Barbara Williams.

Monterey Peninsula United fund is the major financier of HAU, making it possible for Patricia, a worker, to "hardly

Guest Editorial

Tomorrow night the Seaside City Council has an item on the agenda which should interest many Seaside citizens. That item: Public hearing on rezoning property on Ord Grove for realtor Adeline Di Lorenzo which would allow twelve apartment units where present zoning permits only seven.

Immediately behind the proposed development is another set of apartments totaling fourteen for which Mrs. Di Lorenzo received rezoning by the recalled City Council a few short years ago in spite of objections of residents in the surrounding neighborhood. Now here we are again, a strikingly similar application before the city fathers which was UNANIMOUSLY turned down by the Planning Commission TWICE. The Planning Commission denial was appealed to the City Council, and would you believe, her application was approved by a 3-2 vote, with Councilmen Stephen Ross, Joe Cota and Oscar Lawson giving her the nod.

Now this action may have been more easily understood had the "ousted" council granted her appeal, but to have Joe Cota join the parade of grantors of favoritism to special interests is something less than startling. Especially in view of the fact that he was elected by the voters to replace one of those who was recalled, and his platform included opposition to actions of the outsted council which led to their recall. And his vote is in difect conflict with his previous actions pertinent to special interests. We realize that his bitterness toward the mayor led him to seek to dump Mayor Dolan by campaigning for his office on a write-in ticket, but we are astounded that he would let his personal feelings interfere with his good judgement by voitng against anything Dolan was for. WELL, "politics makes strange bedfellows."

As for Ross, at least he is consistent. He also voted for her application a few years ago. But Oscar Lawson is new on the council and has a lot to learn. First, he has never had planning experience. Secondly, he has made it fairly evident that he intends to vote in favor of anything which he believes will help in his quest for higher office. He has made a statement that he has a mandate of the people by his election to office by a mere sixteen votes. And he truly believes that any action he takes is representative of his supporters. Well, one anyway.

And that person is his campaign manager, James "Pat" Patterson. If our readers will recall, a few years ago, an article appeared in a Seaside publication which linked Adeline Di Lorenzo with Patterson. So Lawsons vote can better be understood with this background knowledge.

What we can't understand is now in the world can any member of the City Council justify a vote to over-rule a UNANIMOUS Planning Commission denial. One would think that a decision made by professional planners would certainly outweigh three inexperienced non-professionals, even though they are members of a powerful "court of last resort."

If an advisory body such as the Planning Commission is not needed by the Council, perhaps its services are not needed, and the Council may as well take over their functions. It must be a slap in the face to these dedicated citizens to see their UNANIMOUS action over-ruled.

We would like to urge all interested Seaside citizens to attend the Council meeting tomorrow night and make your thoughts heard.

Gateway Center Buys Two New Vehicles

Gateway Center for the Retarded in Seaside has purchased two Volkswagen vans for transporting their workshop members to work projects and field trips as well as recreation and social activities.

The purchase was made possible through the generosity of many charity-minded organizations, including Wester Volkswagen, who sold the 9-passenger vans to Gateway and contributed $1,000.00 to the project. The Center also received $2,000.00 from the annual Rappa's Invitational Charity Golf Classic, $1,500.00 from the Bing Crosby Youth Fund, $1 from the Bartender's Celebrity Tennis Tournament, and $250.00 from the U.S. Coast Guard Wives Club. In addition, the Monterey Kiwanis has committed $1,000.00 to the purchase, but more donations are needed to complete the contract.

Forest Theater To Stage 'Merchant Of Venice' July 18 to August 24

Imagine the sounds of the sea pounding in the distance with the audience seated in an outdoor amphitheater watching a traditional Shakespearean production. There is a pungent scent of pine trees and burning logs. A yellow moon slowly rising over the top of the stage serves as a backdrop for the whole majestic scene. As long ago as 1908, a farsighted poet and actor visualized the dramatic possibilities of such an open-air theater. He found his ideal spot in Carmel-by-the-Sea, on a hillside overlooking the misty hills which surround the romantic Mission San Carlos Borromeo del Rio Carmelo.

In 1972, the Forest Theater Guild delighted audiences with a presentation of Shakespeare's lively comedy, Twelfth Night. In 1973, Shakespeare's Richard III and Much Ado About Nothing were pronounced outstanding successes. Now, in 1974 the Guild is producing Shakespeare's The Merchant of Venice, a comedy of interwoven stories drawn from medival legends of intrigue and fantasy.

The Merchant of Venice will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30 p.m., July 18 to August 24 in the Forest Theater, Mountain View and Santa Rita Streets, Carmel-by-the-Sea, Ca. No reserved seats, adults $2.50 and enlisted military $1.50. Tickets and information may be obtained by writing P.O. Box 1500, Carmel-by-the-Sea, California 93921 or telephone (408) 624-6838. Editorial

By Tom Nash

Some of the citizens may reach a conclusion that this publication is out to get City Councilman Oscar Lawson, but this is not the fact. During the past four issues we have reported information as it came to light, acting within the scope of keeping the community informed.

Not only have I printed this information, but prior to its publication, all with the exception of my editorial in the past issue, I have personally contacted Mr. Lawson and read him the information and offered him the opportunity to respond.

This publication has been accused of "washing Seaside's dirty linen" in public. But a responsible newspaper has a duty over and above the making of a city to look good. It has the responsibility of acting as the city's watch dog, and if we have a member of the city fathers who, in our opinion, is making mistakes then it is our duty to try and correct these errors. We have no right to suppress news regardless of whose toes we must step on.

It is a matter of public record that Mr. Lawson did:

(1) Oppose the appointment of Billy DeBerry to the Parks night, Billy DeBerry was honored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce as the "Outstanding Young Man Of The Year," and four nights later he was nominated and elected Lt. Governor of the Kiwanis Clubs in the District.

(2) Second the motion removing the name of Rev. Ellis from the Adult Senior Citizens Center.

(3) Oppose the nomination of Billy DeBerry to the Human Rights Commission and substitute another name. Later he supported Billy DeBerry.

We would have no quarrel with Mr. Lawson if, in our opinion, what he was doing was for the best interest of the city, but, because some of his actions could polarize the community, we felt that it should be brought to his attention.

Let it be made clear at this point in time that I subscribe to Mr. Lawson's assault on the problems of water, transportation, and beach frontage for the public, and I do believe he is sincere in attempting to solve some of the problems of Seaside. I just feel that he is going about the solution in the wrong way which could very easily develop "mountains out of molehills."

Mr. Lawson is one of five elected representatives whose primary duty is to work for the best interest of the city. I feel that he is sincerely trying to do these things. But like newcomers to a public office he is possibly over reacting. Because of his dynamic sticktuity and bulldog tenacity, I feel that should his efforts be placed in the proper direction he could become a tremendous asset to the city, but it is a known factor that it is impossible to win when you alienate half of your support.

I repeat for all to hear and read. This publication is not trying to recall anyone and will actively become involved in defeating any such move. To copy a cliche, we are merely "Telling It As It Is."

Master Dancers To Perform At UCSC

SANTA CRUZ - Five master dancers, all of them nationally renowned figures in the field of contemporary dance, will be seen in performance in the Summer Dance Theater Concert, to be presented Friday, Saturday, and Sunday (July 19, 20, and 21) at 8:00 P.M. in the Performing Arts Theater on the University of California, Santa Cruz campus.

Drawing on their own years of training and of professional performance with internationally acclaimed dance groups, such as the Erick Hawkins Company, the Alwin Nikolais Dance Theater, the Jean Erdman Dance Theater, and the Donald McKayle Company, the five -- Kelly Holt, Raymond Johnson, Kathryn Karipides, Ruth Solomon, and Byron Wheeler -- are currently training advanced dance students in UCSC's third annual Summer Dance Theater Institute, originated and directed by Ruth Solomon.

Three of the six major works in the master dancers' concert will be premiere performances.

The program will open with Kelly Holt's "Brancusi Suite," performed by the choreographer and Kathryn Karipides. Holt's interpretation was inspired by three of the Rumanian sculptor's works, "Fish," "Flying Turtle," and "Birds in Space." The first two segments will be danced in solo performance by Holt and Karipides, respectively; the third will be danced in duet. Backscreeen projections of Brancusi's sculptures will illustrate each of the pieces. Holt choreographed "Birds in Space" in 1968 and has recently completed the trilogy with "Flying Turtle" and "Fish," which will be given their first public performances in the mid-July concert.

Byron Wheeler and Ruth Solomon have collaborated in the choreography of "Centripetal Flight (Winging It)," which will also be seen in its premiere performance at the July weekend concert. The two dance-choreographers will perform in duet, accompanied on-stage by pianist Ivan Rosenblum and violinist Cheryl Mengel, playing "Sonatina" by Charles Jones.

Two solo works, "Field Goal," choreographed by Rudy Perez in 1966, and "Andante Amoroso," another concert premiere piece, choreographed for the artist by James Waring, will be performed by Raymond Johnson.

Kathryn Karipides will dance her own composition, "Echoes of Glass," which was first produced earlier this year (1974) by the Dance Theater of Kathryn Karipides and Henry Kurth in Cleveland, Ohio. The three-part lyric solo is described by the choreographer as "abstract, with overtones of Greek folk idiom." Music for the piece was written by Manos Hadjidakis. Setting, costumes, and lighting were designed by Henry Kurth.

The program will close with Kelly Holt's "Shungopovai Shade," in which all five artists will appear. First performed in Cleveland in 1969, the work evolved from Holt's 1966 visit to Shungopovai mesa, one of the seven flat-topped outcroppings of rock on which Indians of the Hopi nation dwell in Northeast Arizona.

Admission to the concert is $2.00. Tickets are available at UCSCs Summer Session Office in Merrill College, telephone (408) 429-2525, and at Plaza Books & Stuff, 1301 Pacific Avenue, Santa Cruz, telephone (408) 427-1234.

Register Now For Peninsula Nursery School

The Peninsula Parent Nursery School is now accepting registrations for the fall semester. The program offers a two-day and a three-day morning session, and a new three-day afternoon session for children two years and nine months to kindergarten. Information may be obtained from the membership chairman, Mrs. Clell Seelig, at 394-2035, or from the assistant membership chairman, Mrs. Fritz Naef, 372-0313.

The cooperative nursery operates under the auspices of the Monterey Adult School. Parents meet once each week to hear special speakers on matters related to child-rearing, and must devote two to three mornings or afternoons a month to helping at the school.

Tuition is $7.00 per month for the two-day session and $10.50 per month for the three-day sessions. Mrs. Joseph Russell is director of this inter-racial, non-profit and non-sectarian program which is located at Del Monte Elementary School, 222 Casa Verde Way in Monterey.

FEW TAKERS

More than 100 big cars were recently sold at discount prices as San Diego dealers pooled their unsold 1973 models in a two-day bargain lot outside the city's stadium. Another 500 cars, many of them "gas-guzzlers," went unsold.

State To Hire More Firefighters

As many as a thousand more seasonal firefighters will be hired this summer by the California Division of Forestry, if that state agency is to meet the requirements of a new federal law.

Last summer, the division hired 1,800 temporary employees to fight wildland fires.

"We're going to almost double our staff," says State Forester Lewis A. Moran, "because of minimum wage and overtime provisions of the new Federal Fair Labor Standards Act.

"We'll be reducing our normal 120-hour, on-the-job week to 60 hours, but we won't necessarily hire twice as many firefighters. At some fire stations our crews will work more than 60 hours and receive overtime pay."

Under the new federal act, firefighters are required to be paid overtime for more than 60 hours of work, a work period that includes time spent sleeping, eating, and resting at a fire station.

CDF is under orders from Gov. Ronald Reagan to maintain last year's level of fire protection, despite the impact of the new federal law.

The Division of Forestry protects approximately 28 million acres of California land. About 3,000 of its employees work full-time, round-the-year.

News In Brief

The Fort Ord Rod and Gun Club will conduct a two-day hunter safety course July 20th and 27th at the Club's East Garrison facilities. All interested persons are invited to attend. This training will meet California State requirements for anyone intending to purchase a State hunting license and is NRA approved.

Registration begins at 9:00 a.m. the first day with a fee of $2.00 per student. Class hours are 10:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. both days. The second day will include firing live ammunition on the range.

Attendance at both sessions is required for successful completion of the course. A written examination will be given at the close of instruction.

Students under 18 years of age must be accompanied by a parent or guardian during registration.

Proper instruction in firearms safety is a must for hunting and all shooting sports. This class is an excellent opportunity for those interested to learn safe handling of firearms. The Rod and gun Club will supply the ammunition, and some rifles will be furnished on the second day. NO FIREARMS WILL BE ALLOWED AT THE FIRST SESSION.

For information regarding the course contact Gary Houf weekdays at 242-2386.

Atotal of 450 cowboys are entered in the arena events and there are 156 entrants on the track.

In the arena the nation's top cowboys will pit their skill and courage against some of the wildest stock ever brought to Salinas. The animals were hand-picked by Chet Behen, arena director, from the top animals of stock contractors in three states.

Look For Licensed Landscapers

The California Landscape Contractors Association cautions homeowners to do business only with licensed landscape contractors. By checking the license of a contractor, homeowners will be sure of a proper landscaping job and may save money.

Too often unlicensed landscape contractors, who call themselves anything from contractors to exterior decorators to tree surgeons, will ask for a 50 to 75 percent downpayment and then never return to complete the job. Or they will charge the homeowner for a completed job and then disappear without paying workers or the nursery for plant materials. In such a case, the homeowner is liable and may end up paying twice for the job.

The homeowner is also liable for any unlicensed contractor he hires. Homeowner insurance policies do not release the owner from any workmen's compensation liabilities incurred on the job. If a contractor is not licensed and is seriously injured, the homeowner may be liable for hugh amounts of money.

A licensed landscape contractor must be insured for workmen's compensation and is no liability to the homeowner. He has at least four years of experience in landscaping and has passed a state administered examination to get his license.

Landscape contractors who are members of the California Landscape Contractors Association adhere to ethical principles, offer quality landscaping at reasonable costs and are licensed by the state.

For further information or recommendations of licensed landscape contractors in your area, contact the CLCA Headquarters office in Los Angeles, (213) 728-CLCA.

ever have a boring moment." Her favorite activity is alphabetizing the agency's many library books, and in her spare time she collects stamps. "I have over 13,000," she says proudly.

Barbara, another workshop member, enjoys stuffing envelopes and other office work. At 35, she lives with her father and takes part in all the social activities for the handicapped, such as the potluck dinner held on the first Friday of every month at the New Monterey Neighborhood Center. This dinner is open to all handicapped people throughout the peninsula. A highlight of the social events is bowling every other Saturday, donated by Monterey's Cypress Bowl. During the summer HAU members attend a 2-week Easter Seal Camp in the Santa Cruz mountains.

Everyone looks forward to the weekly swim program on Wednesday evening at Monterey High School, under the guidance of Mrs. Edith Perry. Allan, a participant, is proud to boast about his latest accomplishment, to swim from the shallow to the deep end of the pool. He is also eager to talk about his hobbies: collecting shells, coins and postcards. "I like things with color," he says, proudly displaying an attractive belt he made.

Community-service projects are also an important part of the busy weekly schedule. The workers garden empty lots near the workshop, go on litter-pickpup outings, and they recently planted the grounds of the Blind Service Center, with the help of the Pacific Grove Lions and residents of Canterbury Woods Retirement Community.

"HAU has a 15-member board of directors, headed by President Bill Read," Mrs. Bishop states, "and we feel that our program is very progressive, that it is helping our handicapped meet the challenges and demands of our society."

"We want to do what the people who work here want to do, then give them guidance and help. It's a victory for all of us when they are enjoying more eventful and productive lives."

Local Doctor Retains Membership In AAFP

KANSAS CITY, MO. — William H. Forestelle, MD., of the Seaside area has completed continuing education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The Academy formerly was called the American Academy of General Practice.

The requirements call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. Members become eligible for re-election at the end of the third year following their election to membership. The Academy, the country's second largest national medical association, is the only national medical group that requires members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

The Academy, founded in 1947 and headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., was instrumental in the establishment of a new primary specialty in family practice in 1969. The new specialty is expected to increase the numbers of family physicians available to serve the public in the future. The Academy's continuing education program is the foundation of eligibility for family doctors now in practice who apply for certification in the new speciality.

Extends Braille Check-Writing Service

A unique banking service for the blind, inaugurated by United California bank (UCB) in Los Angeles and San Francisco last fall, has now been extended to all of the bank's 254 branches in California.

The braille check-writing service is designed to give blind persons greater independence and dignity in financial affairs. It includes an aluminum "checkwriter" which allows a customer to label check-reference information in braille, and a special monthly bank statement printed in braille.

Customers already using the braille service say it gives them greater independence because they need not rely upon friends or relatives to write their checks and reconcile their monthly statement.

There are an estimated 33,000 legally blind persons in the stae, according to the State Department of Rehabilitation.

John Millen, one of the department's coordinators of services to the blind, said the new service will "help personalize a blind person' financial affairs."

The check-writer consists of a two-part aluminum plate into which a regular check is inserted. The top plate has openings positioned to guide the writing of regular check information. Additionally the plate has a number of braille "cells" which allow the customer to print the date and dollar amount, in braille.

Just about the time funds were being committed for the $36-million New York State Harlem Office Building, Con Edison also committed itself to a project of rejuvenation on 125th Street — the heart of Harlem. Thus, a Queens construction firm, managed and controlled by blacks, won a contract for the renovation and modernization of the company's district office and sub-contracts were let to other minority firms for painting, plumbing, plastering, new lighting and so forth.

The 100 Black Men, Inc. composed of NYC's most prominent black leaders, held an all-day, closed retreat recently and planned to expand its programs over the next several months to include strong and more direct positions in such vital areas as construction jobs, criminal justice, health services, black economic development, housing, education and politics. "The members agreed that we must expand our activities and reach out into the more difficult areas," said J. Bruce Lleweilyn, president of the organization.

If an out-of-court agreement between the bricklayers union and three black members who brought suit charging discrimination is approved on June 26 it might be the beginning of the end of racial discrimination through the industry. The agreement, while including a denial of responsibility for racial discrimination by the union, also provides for an $80,000 back-pay to be distributed among members of the predominantly black local in Washington, D.C. And it orders the merging of two Washington locals.

Although a "nickel bag" of heroin still costs just $5 on the streets of New York, the actual average heroin content in each bag has been cut in half, according to Rep. Charles B. And that's why Mr. Rangel is terribly unhappy about reports Turkey is again growing opium.

The Attorney General's authority to file employment discrimination suits against private employers, labor organizations and employment agencies lapsed on March 24, 1974, as required by the 1972 Amendments to Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act. Those Amendments originally gave the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission concurrent jurisdiction with the Attorney General to bring suits in the private sector alleging a "pattern or practice" of employment discrimination based on race, color, national origin, religion or sex; however, now EEOC will have exclusive authority in this area.

oOo

Assistant Attorney General J. Stanley Pottinger, head of the Department's Civil Rights Division, announced that the Division has filed a total of 11[illegible] suits involving more than 1000 defendants during its eight and one-half years of enforcement responsibility in this area.

The Civil Rights Division filed the first of its 116 employment discrimination suits on February 4, 1966, against five building trade locals (Sheet Metal Workers, Electricians, Pipefitters, Plumbers and Laborers) in St. Louis, Missouri. The last suit, filed on March 22, 1974, and successfully resolved by consent decree on March 25th, charged the City of Jackson, Mississippi, with discriminating against blacks and women in filling city civil service jobs.

oOo

Over the years federal courts have established numerous landmark legal principles sought by the Department to create greater job opportunities for minorities and women. These principles include:

— Use of hiring goals and timetables to overcome the effects of past discrimination.

— Back pay awards for workers denied jobs or confined to low-paying jobs on account of discrimination.

— Elimination of discriminatory hiring and promotion tests or qualifications which are neither predictive of job success nor required by business necessity.

— Transfer rights with full company seniority for persons previously denied access to higher-paying jobs on account of discrimination.

oOo

Because of its success in establishing legal precedents, the Justice Department has concentrated its efforts in the past few years on bringing large impact cases which affect employers with more than 3000 and as many as 225,000 employees. Some examples of this effort are:

— A nationwide suit, filed and partially settled by consent on March 20, 1974, against the long haul trucking industry, involving 349 separate trucking companies and a total of 225,000 employees. (The Department had earlier filed 13 suits against individual trucking companies).

— Statewide and area-wide suits against seven public utility companies and related unions: Georgia Power Company, Virginia Electric and Power Company, Detroit Edison Company, Philadelphia Electric Company, Louisville Gas and Electric Company, Piedmont Natural Gas Company, and New Orleans Public Services, Inc.

— Multi-defendant building trade union suits in nine cities: Baltimore, Chicago, Mobile, New York, St. Louis, East St. Louis, New Orleans, Neward and Seattle, as well as numerous suits against individual construction unions in other major cities.

a BOOK that can CHANGE your whole life

Is GOD real to you?
Can you trust HIM?
Is HE near to you?

The Bible tells us we can turn to God for help, for health, for protection. Yet some think these Bible promises are empty. They don't have to be. Today there is a book that is helping many people tune in to the truth of God's nearness, His power and fatherliness. That book is

Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures.

At a low point of poverty, hopeless illness and loneliness, its author, Mary Baker Eddy, saw that God can be trusted and loved. She found that God heals the sick when we love and understand Him. A deep student of the Bible, she discovered a Science based on living the Christianity Jesus taught. She won her freedom from poverty and disease and from her loneliness. Then she wrote down what she learned for the whole world.

By reading and studying this powerful book along with the Bible, men and women throughout the world have found that God can and will help them. These people have solved housing problems, gained opportunities for better education. They've won freedom from poverty, overcome racism. They've discovered what it really means to be the children of God.

You can borrow a copy of Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures from the free lending library at any Christian Science Reading Room, or you can purchase it in paperback.

SPECIAL FREE OFFER

If you'll take this ad to one of these Reading Rooms, you can have your own copy of Science and Health to read for thirty days. If at the end of that time you want to keep it, you just pay the nominal purchase price of $1.95. Or you can return it to the Reading Room with absolutely no obligation.

Most Cars Exceeding 55 MPH Speed Limit, According To Survey

Four of every five cars on California's rural freeways are going faster than the 55-mile-an-hour speed limit, except at rush hour, according to a recent sampling by the State's Department of Transportation (CALTRANS).

After dropping by almost ten miles per hour when the 55 mile speed law was passed, the average speeds on the highways are now creeping upward again.

The survey also showed that about half of all traffic on urban freeways, and that on rural two-lane roads, is exceeding the limit.

CALTRANS Director, Howard C. Ullrich, said that the highest average speeds were registered by passenger cars and pickups, followed by big trucks, then smaller trucks and buses. The slowest average speeds were registered by either cars or trucks pulling trailers.

Ullrich said that on rural freeways, where the greatest number of violations of the speed limit occurred, almost half of the traffic surveyed was traveling between 55 and 60 miles per hour; another 28 percent was between 60 and 65 miles per hour, and 5 percent was driving faster than 65 miles an hour.

A 1972 survey, taken when the general speed limit was still 65 and some stretches of the freeways were posted at 70, showed that almost two-thirds of all rural freeway traffic was going faster than 65. The average speed for all vehicles then was 67, compared to 58 today.

The CALTRANS speed survey, conducted with electronic equipment is taken monthly at various locations throughout the state.

RURAL FREEWAY

Cars and pickups (no trailer)	58.8
Three or more axle trucks	57.0 mph
Two axle trucks	56.3 mph
Buses	56.1 mph
Cars and pickups with trailers	54.6 mph
All vehicles	58.2

URBAN FREEWAY

Cars and pickups (no trailer)	54.5 mph
Three or more axle trucks	54.9 mph
Two axle trucks	53.8 mph
Buses	51.8 mph
Cars and pickups with trailers	50.8 mph
All vehicles	54.4 mph

RURAL TWO-LANE HIGHWAY

Cars and pickups (no trailer)	55.4 mph
Three or more axle trucks	54.8 mph
Two axle trucks	52.6 mph
Buses	50.0 mph
Cars and pickups with trailer	52.5 mph
All vehicles	55.0 mph

Keep Summer Safety In Mind, Says CSAA

Long days, pleasant weather, school vacation -- all these things mean increased exposure to traffic for both young and old pedestrians, says the California State Automobile Association (AAA). This is also the time of year for family outings. Vacations, picnics and trips to the beach result in a greater amount of traffic on our highways. Consequently, it is advisable to plan well for summer safety.

It is also advisable that children be occupied with summertime activities. Youngsters with nothing to do may well spend their time playing or hanging around streets or highways. This is a very dangerous practice. Parents should teach their children that roadways are for vehicles only, and should also point out that a child's inability to concentrate on both play and traffic activities simultaneously.

CSAA stresses the need for developing playgrounds and parks away from busy streets.

Children won't play in the street if there are plenty of recreational areas for their own use. This month's poster illustrates another good safety idea -- fencing in ball fields and other play areas. Balls are then less likely to bounce into the street, and young children will be kept from using roadways as an extension of their play area.

The poster entitled "Play Away From Traffic" is one in a series distributed by CSAA to schools in central and northern California and throughout Nevada.

Bill Changes Requirements

Legislation recently signed by Governor Reagan exempts several types of vehicles used solely off-highway from the state's registration requirement.

According to Department of Motor Vehicles Director Robert Cozens owners of the following types of vehicles, when used only off highway, do not have to register them:

Vehicles operated only on private property by owners or tenants;

Vehicles operated only on sanctioned closed-course racetracks;

Commercial, logging and farm vehicles;

Motorcycles manufactured in 1942 or earlier.

Unless exempted, all vehicles used exclusively off-highways -- including motorcycles, dirt bikes, minibikes, jeeps, dune buggies, all-terrain vehicles, snowmobiles, etc. -- must carry a state OHV identification sticker by the end of July, 1974.

Without an OHV sticker or a license plate, non-exempt vehicles are subject to being cited when towed on a highway, Cozens said.

The OHV identification fee is $15.00, good for two years. Late penalties raise the fee to $18.00 after July 31 and $30.00 after August 30.

IT COSTS $55,000,000 A YEAR TO GIVE YOU INFORMATION THAT YOU ALREADY HAVE.

IF YOU CARE ABOUT COST, USE THE BOOK.

Directory Assistance Operators at Pacific Telephone receive over a million requests a day for numbers that are already listed in the phone book.

In fact, many calls are for the same numbers over and over...for places like restaurants, buses, theatres, department stores, and service stations.

And while it's our policy to provide you with whatever information you request, you should know that last year, the Operator expense for handling those unnecessary calls totaled over $55,000,000.

$55,000,000. That's a lot of money to pay for information you already have...right in your local directory.

So, if you're concerned about the cost of your service, do something about it. Make a list of the numbers you call most often, and keep it handy. Also, keep the book near your phone, and use it whenever you can.

Of course, whenever you can't find the information you need, we're here to help.
